

Topics A-ZNEWS & FEATURES › PC HARDWARE ›

UniNet aims to foster alliances and boost profile

UniNet Imaging has revealed an ambitious plan to boost its regional profile at GITEK Technology Week.

PRINT

E-MAIL

TEXT SIZE

SHARE

By

Published September 16, 2008

UniNet Imaging has revealed an ambitious plan to boost its regional profile at GITEK Technology Week.

UniNet is a worldwide quality manufacturer and solutions provider to original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) and remanufacturers, as well as a distributor of chemical and blended toners, smartchips, toner and ink jet cartridge remanufacturing components.

UniNet Imaging president Nestor Saporiti says the company is looking to secure new distribution partnerships, and promote the ongoing development of toner cartridge remanufacturing solutions at GITEK.

Saporiti says the company is committed to developing environmentally friendly solutions for the toner remanufacturing industry.

"Exhibiting at GITEK will provide us with an opportunity to enhance our business relations in the region," he adds.

Currently, UniNet offers more than 14,000 cartridge recycling, toners, smartchips and component products. During GITEK Technology Week, the company will showcase a range of products designed for printers manufactured by some of the industry's biggest names, including HP, Brother, Xerox and Samsung.

JOIN THE DISCUSSIONAdd Yours

ALSO IN THIS SECTION

COMPONENTS
Hard knocksDESKTOPSWorldwide PC shipments fall; netbooks keep going strongIMAGING
Holografika in expansion bid

ALSO IN NEWS & FEATURES

BUSINESS APPLICATIONS
Luxury launchCHANNELIraqi Channel Feels The PressureDATA CENTRES
Discounting the downturn